Index

Volume 55
PUBLIC WELFARE 1997

Features, by Title

Case Management and Welfare Reform in Nebraska. Kathy Stokes and Beatty Brasch. Winter, 33.

Child Support Policies and Domestic Violence. Jessica Pearson and Esther Ann Griswold. Winter, 26.

A Conversation with John F. White, Jr. American Public Welfare Association. Winter, 10.

Developing Collaborative Child Welfare Educational Programs. Christina Risley-Curtiss, Steven L. McMurtry, Shari Loren, Nora Gustavsson, Evie Smith, and Richard Faddis. Spring, 29.

Dispatches from the States. American Public Welfare Association. Winter, 42; Spring, 37; Summer, 38; Fall, 38.

Efforts by Child Welfare Agencies to Address Domestic Violence. Laudan Y. Aron and Krista K. Olson. Summer, 4.

Integrating Housing and Human Service Resources. John Sidor. Summer, 33.

Is It Necessarily Better to Adhere to the Formula? Nanette R. Sarper and Hüseyin Sarper. Fall, 31.

Managing the Purchase of Information Systems Technology: Guidelines for Success. Richard S. Wyde. Summer, 14.

Child Health Q&A: Minnesota. American Public Welfare Association. Fall, 18.

Child Health Q&A: New Jersey. American Public Welfare Association. Fall, 14.

Nevada's University-State Partnership: A Comprehensive Alliance for Improved Services to Children and Families. Thom Reilly and Nancy Petersen. Spring, 21.

The Partnership Journey: First Decade. Katharine Briar-Lawson, Donald Schmid, and Norma Harris. Spring, 4.

Pennsylvania's Comprehensive Approach to Training and Education in Public Child Welfare. Larry Breitenstein, Judith Rycus, Edward Sites, and Kathy Jones Kelley. Spring, 14.

Putting Work First in Washington State. Elena Lahr-Vivaz. Fall, 22.

Reengineering the Child Welfare Training and Professional Development System in Kentucky. Stephen R. Fox, Douglas Burnham, and Viola P. Miller. Spring, 8.

The Relationship Between Foster Care and Homelessness. Nan P. Roman and Phyllis B. Wolfe. Winter, 4.

Resolving Issues of Access: Noncustodial Parents and Visitation Rights. Jessica Pearson and Nancy Thoennes. Fall, 4.

States Move to Put Low-Income Noncustodial Parents in Work Activities. Elaine Sorenson. Winter, 17.

Virginia: Promoting Independence and Employment. Clarence Carter, Denise Dunbar, Sally Micks, Martin Brown, and Marian Davis-Johnson. Summer, 21.

Features, by Author

American Public Welfare Association. A Conversation with John F. White Jr. Winter, 10.

American Public Welfare Association. Dispatches from the States. Winter, 42; Spring, 37; Summer, 38; Fall, 38.

American Public Welfare Association. Child Health Q&A: Minnesota. Fall, 18.

American Public Welfare Association. Child Health Q&A: New Jersey. Fall, 14.

Aron, Laudan Y., and Krista K. Olson. Efforts by Child Welfare Agencies to Address Domestic Violence. Summer, 4.

Briar-Lawson, Katharine, Donald Schmid, and Norma Harris. The Partnership Journey: First Decade. Spring, 4.

Breitenstein, Larry, Judith Rycus, Edward Sites, and Kathy Jones Kelley. Pennsylvania's Comprehensive Approach to Training and Education in Public Child Welfare. Spring, 14.

Carter, Clarence, Denise Dunbar, Sally Micks, Martin Brown, and Marian Davis-Johnson. Virginia: Promoting Independence and Employment. Summer, 21.

Fox, Stephen R., Douglas Burnham, and Viola P. Miller. Reengineering the Child Welfare Training and Professional Development System in Kentucky. Spring, 8.

Lahr-Vivaz, Elena. Putting Work First in Washington State. Fall, 22.

Pearson, Jessica, and Esther Ann Griswold. Child Support Policies and Domestic Violence. Winter, 26.

Pearson, Jessica, and Nancy Thoennes. Resolving Issues of Access: Noncustodial Parents and Visitation Rights. Fall, 4.

Reilly, Thom, and Nancy Petersen. Nevada's University-State Partnership: A Comprehensive Alliance for Improved Services to Children and Families. Spring, 21.

Risley-Curtiss, Christina, Steven L. McMurtry, Shari Loren, Nora Gustavsson, Evie Smith, and Richard Faddis. Developing Collaborative Child Welfare Educational Programs. Spring, 29.

Roman, Nan. P., and Phyllis B. Wolfe. The Relationship Between Foster Care and Homelessness. Winter, 4.

Sarper, Nanette R., and Hüseyin Sarper. Is It Necessarily Better to Adhere to the Formula? Fall, 31.

Sidor, John. Integrating Housing and Human Service Resources. Summer, 33.

Sorenson, Elaine. States Move to Put Low-Income Noncustodial Parents in Work Activities. Winter, 17.

Stokes, Kathy, and Beatty Brasch. Case Management and Welfare Reform in Nebraska. Winter, 33.

Wyde, Richard S. Managing the Purchase of Information Systems Technology: Guidelines for Success. Summer, 14.